of William A. Sandercock, who was shot and killed Wednesday morning in the Sampson Meat & Grocery company's store at Garfield, not only remains unselved, but with the finding of the first clew to the murderers yesterday is deepened. A blood-stained handkerchief was found near the Sait Lake Route station at Garfield.

Garfield.

The two mysterious strangers who were seen walking rapidly in the direction of Sait Lake early on the morning of the murder have not yet been located. A man by the name of Finney, who left Garfield about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in company with William Lithgow and Peter Mackey, who were arrested at Lynndyl late Wednesday morning, held and brought to Sait Lake on suspicion of being implicated in the murder, has been located at Stockton, Utah, and will be brought to Sait Lake this morning.

Inorning.

It is believed that Finney can throw some light upon the actions of Mackey and Lithgow and that possibly he can tell something in addition to what is already known about the two strangemen seen hurriedly leaving the camp on the morning of the murder.

Victim's Funeral Sunday.

Relatives of William Sandercock, the murdered man have not yet been heard from. The funeral of Sandercock will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Eber W. Hall mortuary chapel. The Rev P. A. Simpkin will preside at the ceremony, Interment will be in Mount Offiver cemetery. Funeral arrangements are being made under the direction of Lou Sampson, provietor of the Sampson Meat & Grocery company at Garfield, by whom Sandercock was amployed.

and conviction of the murderers of Sandercock.

At about 11 o'clock yesterday morning a blood-stained handkerchiet was found near the freight agent's office at Gardeld. Not far from the handkerchief was found a grain sack containing nine half sticks of No. 2 giant powder. The handkerchief, although not powder burned, looked as though it might have been used as a muffle to deaden, the sound of a revolver. It is believed the revolver used by the murderers was muffled, as a shoemaker who was asleep in the basetnent of the Sampson store on the morning of the shooting did not bear the reports which resulted in the death of Sandercock.

Another important development in the case yealerday is a conversalion between two men on the morning of the murder, overheard by William Dudley, freight agent at Gartield, and Mrs. Dudley.

Mr. Dudley said that himself and wife were awakened at about 2 o'clock on the morning of the murder by the voices of two men outside their window. Following is what Mr. Dudley said he heard:

"Come on back now and we'll finish this thing."

Sheriff Sharps believes that the men how conversation was overfound by whose conversation was overheard by Mr. and Mrs. Dudley, the men who dropped their blood-stained handkerchie and the giant powder, are the men who murdered Sandercock.

murdered Sandercock.

Every attempt has been made to find a person by the name of Willard Thomas. However, a man by that name has not been located nor is such a person known at Garfield, it is said.

Both the handkerchief and the giant lowder were found in the path of the two strange men who were seen walking rapidly away from Garfield at about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

OUESTION OF TESTING PLANT GOES OVER

A further discussion of the proposal to partition the government to install an ore-testing and experiment station in Sait Lake took place at a meeting of the Commercial club's mines and mining committee yesterday neon instead of acting a data for a special meeting of the club members to act upon the maiter, the committee decided to let the matter go over until the next general membership meeting in December.

At the last meeting on the proposal was evident, it being held by some local assayers that an experiment station would result in government competition with private enterprises. At vesterday's meeting, however, the fallary of this stand was brought out, and it was shown that the station would make it possible for assayers to learn how to treat eres in order to make the most profit at the least outlay. Other practical and educational features were set forth.

A resolution passed at the recent convention of the American Mining cougress, asks the government to make an appropriation of $560,000 for the establishment of the plant in the west, and the petition which it is expected will be presented by Salt Lake mining men and club members for the crection of the station here will conform in every way to the purposes and purport of the measure adopted by the congress.

dal club at a meeting yesterday voted to indorse reciprocal low-rate excursions sition to arrange an indefinite series of excursions between the two cities was rought to a successful climax by public-spirited men and representatives of the Western Pacific company. Under the present arrangement the first excursion will take place from this city late in January, 1912, that date being considered best for the merchants of the city and county, who are necessarily busy during the holiday season.

A. W. Raybould, rassenger agent for the Western Pacific company, presented the railroad side of the proposition, offering round-trip rate of $20 for each passenger, It is hoped by the Commercial club that the excursion will be a marked success. Special trains will be run under personal conduction and the excursion will be of Sait Lake and tributary country.

Plan Well Defined,

Plan Well Defined,

The objects of the reciprocal excursions will be to "get acquainted," to foster a stronger feeling between the coast metropolis and the intermountain metropolis, and to bring both cities into closer financial, commercial and industrial relationship. In this plan the leading men of San Francisco will participate in return excursions to Salt Lake, this promise having been made by the San Francisco will participate bodies, such as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition committee.

The commercial bodies of San Francisco and Oakland will entertain the Salt Lake excursionists and those who make the trip will have an opportunity of learning what the coast cities are doing in anticipation of the big exposition of 1915.

Heretofore the excursions from this city to the coast or other outside points have been rather one-sided, it is declared. Money has gone forth from the city without reciprocity on the part of the localities visited. This arrangement, it is asserted, will be strictly reciprocial in every respect. The Western Pacific com-pany has promised to support Salt Lake in every way end officials are co-operat-ing with the local Commercial club to bring Utah prominently to the attention of Californians.

To Mutual Advantage.

Salt Lake business men, it is understood favor the move strongly, appreciating the advantages that will accrue through the excursions on the plan specified. Notice of the decision was telegraphed to the coast metropolis and the following wires were received at the club last evening, showing the attitude of San Francisco:

to make the affair an unprecedented success and a record-breaking attendance is expected.

Today many students and young men and women of the city will enlist their services in the popular movement, so that when the tabernacle throws open its doors Monday evening the choir singers and those who engineered the concert tour will meet with a royal welcome indeed by one of the largest representative audiences that has guthered for years for an occasion of the kind.

The close-in part of the city has been districted into twenty-one blocks. Each block is being thoroughly canvassed by a group of workers under an able captain and flutenants. Susa Young Gates leads the second division of women who entered the campaign yesterday.

An additional 1000 tickets have been placed on sale in various manners, making the total number of tickets thus farprinted for sale 6000. Chalrman Wesley E. If 10,000 are distributed and sold at 50 cents and $1, the financial testimonial to the returning singers will be most gratifying.

At a meeting yesterday noon of the Commercial club's committee on manufactories, steps were taken which may lead to the establishment in this city of two important factories. One of these would manufacture and distribute what is known as the Dickinson automatic governor, an invention by a Utah man for the regulating of motive power plants; the other would produce the Davis disc plow. Both devices are said to be great improvements over former apparatus of the kind. Their efficiency has been demonstrated and the companies now in control of each project claim that a wide demand necessitates the establishment of manufactories.

John A. Burt, representing the Dickinson company, explained the character of the governor, its usefulness and successful operation in a score of places here. He said the company desired to enlarge its facilities in crecting a factory in a big shipping center convenient to raw materials and market, and that Ogden, St. Louis and other cities had offered sites and invitations. He delared that the company desired to locate in Sait Lake, to give Utah people the benefit of a Utah invention. A committee consisting of Glen Miller, chairman, J. W. Silver and N. W. Through the courtesy of the management of the Hotel Utah, the mezzanine floor and the banquet hall were placed at the disposal of the guests, five hundred being the game on the mezzanine and bridge in the banquet room. About seventy-five tables were played. The prizes for the gentlemen were handsome smoking sets, and for the ladies cut glass cream and sugar sets. These were donated by prominent merchants of Salt Lake.

About three hundred members of the Salt Lake chapter of the league and their friends were present, among them Mrs. Fritz, president; Mrs. Sasse, secretary, and Mrs. Barton, treasurer. The members of the reception committee were Mrs. Hubbard, chalrman; Mrs. D. N. Hughes, Mrs. John Hughes and Mrs. Gnekow. In a letter from J. H. Davis, the proposition of the Davis Disc Flow company was set forth, asking for the moral support of the club toward providing capital for the establishment of a manufacturing plant in this city. Mr. Davis said that the purchaser of the first plow he had manufactured stood ready to take $5000 worth of stock in the new concern, and that the company had $15,000 worth of business in sight as soon as a plant could be set up to fill the orders placed. He declared the factory to start with could be put up for $125,000. A committee consisting of William Prackwinkle, chairman, Frederick Eberbardt and Charles F. Porter was appointed to investigate and report.

It is understood that both propositions are worth even more than the representations made, and that if the reports of the commercial club will use every effects. sentations made, and that if the reports of the committees are what it expected, the Commercial club will use every effort to bring about the establishment of the manufactories here.
